X: The Bone-Man: His Backstory- Dr. Yorick Bones was a promising young osteology student at the university. Top-of-his-class and so forth. Just after 'Ace-ing' an important exam, he learns that he has bone cancer, terminal if not treated. But it's untreatable, that is, unless they use their new Meson-ray machine. It has not been tested, and is a prototype. The inventor will be there to monitor the device as it works. Bones sits in a chair in the inventor's room, with the M-Ray machine turned on him. The Inventor fires up the machine, its energy fills the room with noise and light. The rays strike Yorick from multiple directions. The scientist/doctors outside the room are blinded, unable to see the effects of the ray. Then something goes wrong, the machine overheats, and explodes, killing all the still-blinded observers, including the inventor, and setting his workshop ablaze. In the room, a figure moves. It walks over to a mirror, and sees — an empty skull. But on that skull is a mark — an X. The figure reasons that this must be its name. Thus, 'X' walks calmly and ~~silently~~ slowly, unheeding the timbers burning, falling all about him, out of the Inventor's workshop just before it collapses. And he walks into the night. His Identity - Once he was a medical student; now he is a 'living' skeleton. His ~~secret identity~~ alter-ego is "Dr." Yorick Bones (he had not yet achieved his doctorate) Ezekiel 37:1-7. Daniel 1:8, 11-16; 5:24-28, 30. Nehemiah 6:1-3. I Chron. 10:1-6. Genesis 1:3; 2:18-24; 3:todo; 4:1-15; 8:22; 19:todo; 41:1-7. Judges 3:15-25; 4:15-22; 13:1-18; 14:12-18; 15:4-6, 14-16; 16:23-31, 19:todo I Sam 8:4-6, 11-18. II Sam 12:1-12. I Kings 21:1-16. 2 Kings 1:9-15; 9:11-24, 27-28, 30-37 Matthew 5:23-30, 40-42; 7:3-5, 16, 18, 20; 9:16-17; 12:25, 33; 22:17-21; 24:28 26:69-~~75~~; 27:46. Mark 2:21-22; 3:24-27; 5:1-9; 9:43-48, 50; 11:12-14; 12:41-44; 14:51-52. Romans 1:18-32; 2:1. ~~Galatians~~ James 1:8, 13-16, 23-24; 3:3-5, 10-12, 4:1-2, 9. Revelation 5:13; 6:1-8; 8:1; 9:16-19; 12:1-9, 13-17; 13:1-4, 11-18; 22:18-19. IT IS FINISHED.

His Powers and Abilities: X is made of bones stronger than steel, they stick together, needing no ligaments or muscles. His mind controls each bone independently, thus, his legs can take a walk while his torso and head relax. He can summon bones from thin air and manipulate them telekinetically. He can create and control bone golems, and change his own bones' density to be superheavy or to 'phase' through walls. He can only do so much density-changing in a day, or he becomes X-hausted. X, appropriately enough, has x-ray vision (yes, even through lead), his sight can pierce anything. If beaten to pieces, X will always rise again. His bones do not break, they only separate. He has super-human, but sub-kryptonian, hearing. Super-human 'touch', too — like a snake or scorpion, he can 'hear' through the ground. He can also tunnel thru the ground with incredible speed. X has ~~str~~ roughly the strength of a strong man in normal circumstances, but under an adrenaline rush it can multiply to an absurd level. His strength is variable, in other words. His speed and reflexes are your average low-mid tier-superheroes. He's great at long jumps and climbing, parkour. ~~[illegible]~~ He is not too sneaky, his bones clatter often. His endurance is unequaled, his stamina peerless. He has high intelligence.
